Controversial beach hut rent increases could be reviewed

MUCH-criticised hikes in beach hut and site rents could be reviewed at the end of the year if vacancies remain.

Last week East Devon District Council (EDDC) had a 24 per cent vacancy rate as officers were working through the waiting list.

The figures for Seaton and Beer are lower, but the criticism remains.

There are different rates depending on the location and package but rates will almost have doubled by summer 2017 when compared to 2015.

Town and district councillor Peter Burrows told Seaton Town Council he raised the beach hut issue at a district council meeting and asked for the take-up rate.

He said: "The answer is that [district-wide] 115 beach huts have been given up, which is 26 per cent. Because of that high number, if we are in this situation at the end of the year, I was told a review will be undertaken."

"I questioned that. We need a review during this year. If they are losing 26 per cent, and next year want another 50 per cent [rent increase], it only goes to show it was a very bad decision in the first place. It was a terrible decision and I shall continue fighting this."

His fellow town and district councillor Marcus Hartnell said: "What Councillor Burrows didn't mention

by Anders Larsson
anders@viewnews.co.uk

is that the officers are working through the waiting list.

"Clearly there has been a lot of people waiting for a number of years in Seaton, and they are working through that list as part of the process."

"Certainly walking along the seafront, I wouldn't say that we have a 25 per cent vacancy in Seaton, but that's just me walking along the seafront making observations."

Seaton mayor, Cllr Tony Woodman, said: "I won't name names but I know one or two who are no longer using the beach huts because they can't afford them, and they have had them for years"

"They are Seaton people and it worries me that we can't really do much to help them."

EDDC has since provided a statistical breakdown and said the vacancy rate is 24 per cent, not 26 per cent.

Speaking on April 27th, a spokesperson said: "The number of beach hut tenants who have decided not to renew is 115 (out of a total of 445 across the whole of East Devon).

"This equates to a retention rate of 76 per cent. Beer has 54 sites. At the start of the season there were seven vacancies."

"Three have been filled and four are under offer. Ten people have declined an offer. Seaton has 123 sites; at the start of the season there were 22 vacancies."

"Five have been filled and 17 are under offer. Forty-five people have declined an offer."

"We are currently working through our remaining waiting lists, which have been re-opened for the first time in many years, to try and re-let the remaining vacant beach hut sites."

"If we exhaust this and still have vacant beach hut sites we will advertise them."

"If, at the end of the year, we reach a position where we still have a high degree of vacant huts, a review of our charges will be undertaken."

"We will carry out consultation with town and parish councils progressively throughout this year."

Seaton resident Marilyn Coates has been a fierce critic of the rate hike, and has not renewed her beach hut site tenancy.

She said: "It looks as though they are having trouble filling the vacancies."

"The sentence saying 'If, at the end of the year, we reach a position where we still have a high degree of vacant huts, a review of our charges will be undertaken,' tells us quite a lot, doesn't it?"

■ THE transfer of the freehold interest of Seaton Town Hall from East Devon District Council to Seaton Town Council has been completed.

Those involved gathered on April 28th to formally announce that all the paperwork has been completed and signed.

The town hall transfer was agreed in principle last year and the deal is that ownership is passed from East Devon District Council to Seaton Town Council at no cost.

The latter has vacated to new premises and is in the process of issuing a long-term town hall lease to Seaton Gateway Theatre Company (formerly Seaton's Voice), and a separate lease to Seaton Museum.

Seaton mayor Cllr Tony Woodman said: "Seaton Town Council is delighted to have secured the asset of Seaton Town Hall. I am very pleased that the town hall is now back where it

"We must now all work together to make sure the building is a big success for all concerned."

"I thank everyone involved in what has been a long process for their commitment and effort. It has shown the advantages of working together to a common goal."

District councillor Ian Thomas, EDDC portfolio holder for finance, added: "We are de-

AXMINSTER

Big changes planned for traders' group

AXMINSTER Chamber of Commerce could go through a radical change and reduce formal meetings to a bare minimum.

If members agree at next week's AGM, the chamber would operate and function around social and networking events.

Chamber chairman Shane Morgan and vice-chairman Joy Raymond stress that it is up to members to decide a way forward during the AGM on Monday, May 9th.

Numbers at members' meetings have sometimes been in single figures.

Vice-chairman Joy Raymond said: "Like many other organisations, we are finding that numbers for formal meetings are dropping.

"We are also finding that more and more people are discussing local issues on social media.

Chairman Shane Morgan said: "We have been successful with social events and get a lot more out of it – discussing issues, networking and brainstorming in a less formal way. We've got to modernise, we've got to move with the times."

OTTERY ST MARY EDDC rejects plans for new housing

OTTERY St Mary Town Council and its residents are celebrating after a planning application for 53 new houses was turned down by East Devon District Council.

Chairman of Ottery Town Council's Planning Committee, Councillor Ian Holmes, praised the town's residents for their hard work, saying: "This inappropriate application inspired a group of local residents to set up the Gerway Action group and joined with the town council in vigorously opposing the plans."

The application was bought forward by the Gerway Lane Landowners Consortium and it is not yet known whether or not they will appeal EDDC's decision.

From the editor's chair Keeping the traders' flag flying

WHEN I started reporting – more than half a century ago – every town in Pulman's Country had a vibrant Chamber of Commerce.

Their membership represented the pillars of the community, made up of self-made businessmen and women and those who were captains of industry in our circulation area.

Many of them were also respected local councillors.

Over the years the influence of the chambers of commerce has declined to a point where many struggle to survive. In some towns they have disappeared altogether.

Why is this?

Some argue that the answer is in the name itself; that the term 'chamber of commerce' is old fashioned and outdated.

Others maintain that it's tough enough running a business these days without having to spend hours in meetings and precious trading time organising events, etc.

In some of the towns we cover splinter groups have been formed and fallen along the way.

Some say that local authorities take little notice of what the traders have to say.

As a young reporter the chamber of commerce provided a continual stream of good copy. When there was a good story brewing the first port of call for a pithy comment was always the president or chairman of the chamber for one simple reason – their views were generally respected because they were successful in business.

I've always been of the opinion that the local trading community should have a strong voice when it comes to decisions that affect the running of any town.

I have not changed that opinion which was why a few years ago I stepped into the breach and was acting chairman of Axminster Chamber of Commerce for a few months. Had I not done so, it would have folded.

Like many others, the Axminster chamber has gone through some difficult times and was recently rescued from oblivion because its future was in jeopardy through lack of support.

Former chairman and long-term Axminster businessman Shane Morgan staged a rescue operation and is now leading a new initiative to steer the chamber into an age of less officialdom in a more informal manner.

The important factor is that the chamber lives on and will continue to fight for the town's trading community when necessary.

Town Hall back in Seaton's hands

THE transfer of the freehold interest of Seaton Town Hall from East Devon District Council (EDDC) to Seaton Town Council has been completed.

Those involved gathered on April 28th to formally announce that all the paperwork has been completed and signed.

The transfer was agreed in principle last year and the deal is that ownership is passed from EDDC to Seaton Town Council at no cost.

School fair to be bigger and better

COLYTON Grammar School's annual Garden and Food Festival aims to be better than ever this year.

The event will be held Saturday, May 7th, 10am-4pm with free entry. The school grounds will be transformed with stalls, entertainment and activities aimed at raising money for the school's Space4Science Appeal.

Past festivals have raised more than £4,000 and this year's profits will contribute to the £100,000 target for science equipment.

The Lions will hold several special events to mark their 40th birthday, including a concert at the Manor Pavilion theatre on Saturday May 8th.

SOUTH SOMERSET

Traders want more information on EU

SOMERSET businesses want more facts and less spin regarding the EU referendum, according to a Somerset Chamber of Commerce poll.

More than 40 per cent of respondents to the member survey said that they needed more information before making their decision on whether the UK should leave the EU or not ahead of the referendum on June 23rd.

Key areas where clarity is required include an understanding of what, if any, EU funding is coming to small businesses and the more rural areas of the country; the effects that leaving the EU would have; and the issue of time frames.

The Somerset Chamber has stated that it will maintain a neutral position on the issue of the EU referendum, sharing information on both sides of the debate, as well as articulating the views of the local business community.

Somerset Chamber of Commerce chief executive Dale Edwards said: "The feedback received from our survey highlighted the need for clarity on both sides of the debate."

Beach hut rent rises could be reviewed

MP backs road improvements

MAJOR access roads into Honiton will be improved if MP Neil Parish and a local action group have their way.

The A303 and A30 – which links Devon to London via the M3 and the A35 – see a very high traffic flow everyday and numerous accidents each month.

A group of volunteers from Wilmington, with the support of their local parish council, have taken it upon themselves to try to secure improvements to road safety and traffic issues in their village, which is on the A35 near Honiton.

Another area of interest the action group is looking into is to try to revive a previous bypass idea linking Honiton and Axminster along the 'Seven Mile Straight' (Stockland Hill).

CORRECTION: Save Our Ottery Hospital

IN the edition of April 19th, we reported on the Ottery St Mary front page and page three (which appears across all titles), that the Ottery St Mary Hospital League of Friends failed last month in their bid for a judicial review into the closing of hospital beds and the MIU at the Ottery Hospital. This is incorrect as it was in fact the several members of the Save Our Ottery Hospital campaign who attempted to launch the judicial review. # Young leaders' raise cash for children's hospice egg tombola. Seaton's Young Leaders are sponsored by Seaton and District Lions Club independently raising money as Young Leaders in Service to donate to good causes.

TWO of Seaton's Young Leaders, Victoria and Isabella Synek Herd, presented a cheque for £428.20 to Pauline Leach of Children's Hospice South West at Seaton and District Lions' April meeting in the Eyre Court Hotel.

The Young Leaders chose to donate to this charity because Children's Hospice South West provides hospice care for children with life-limiting conditions who are not expected to survive into adulthood.

The three hospices in the South West provide respite care and support for those children and their families.

This year is an exciting year for the charity, which celebrates 25 years since its founding in 1991.

Work to go ahead to avoid flooding in Beer

WORK is proceeding to ensure that the flooding which badly affected Hollyhead Road (B3174) going out of Beer last winter will not be a problem in the future.

The road is currently closed as workmen from Devon County Council install new drains to help disperse the water that flooded a large section of the road just before it joined with the A3052 Lyme Regis to Exeter road.

The flooding was linked to the pigs at Bovey and Gatcombe Farm on the Clinton Devon Estates land adjacent to the B3174 which are run by Fawley Farms Ltd, under the management of Terry Ledbury and Mark Cook.

Mr Ledbury and Mr Cook have also told Beer Parish Council that they have initiated plans to ensure the problems aren't repeated next winter.

"The representatives of Bovey Farm addressed the Parish Annual Meeting and came across very well," said Beer Parish Council clerk Annie Dallaway.

"They are committed to doing what they say and they were very positive. They confirmed the pigs, which are kept up there, will be rotated on the fields and will be kept well away from the village."

The pigs were originally moved out to the fields near the A3052 following bad floods which swept down into Beer village some years ago and the move worked well until the heavy rainfall in the first few months of the year led to the recent issues.

The farmers also said they are looking to improve access into and around the fields so that tractor and farm machinery won't be taking mud and waste out onto the roads which had also led to complaints from Beer residents.

Street festival returns

A STREET festival will return to Jubilee Gardens, Seaton, on Friday, May 6th.

The first Friday of May, June, July and August will see Seaton Eats Boutique pop up from 5pm.

Organiser Eleanor Carr said: "Last year's events were a hit with locals and visitors alike. Everyone is welcome (except dogs)."

The event is supported by East Devon District Council, Seaton Town Council and Seaton Town Development Team.

lighted that the transfer of this significant asset to Seaton Town Council has now been completed, and are confident that the new owners will secure its long-term future within the local community.

"My colleagues and I will continue to support the town council and its tenants, during the finalisation of the tenant lease agreements, to do all we can to make sure the transfer is successful on all levels.

"I should like to add personal thanks to all from Seaton Town Council, Gateway Community Theatre Company, Seaton Museum and my EDDC council member and officer colleagues for their positive approach and commitment to delivering this important transfer. It's called teamwork, it works."

It was added that the main principles of the leases have been agreed and that detailed legal documents are being drawn up.

Major grant secured for older people's services

EAST Devon Volunteer Support Agency (EDVSA) has secured a £47,000 grant to develop services for older people, especially dementia sufferers and their families and carers.

The grant will help older people capture their memories before they are lost, through creating a 'Life Story' – a permanent memory board or

by Anders Larsson
anders@viewnews.co.uk

memory box of photos, letters and other memorabilia for families and carers to discuss with their loved one.

The Life Story project builds on the EDVSA's reminiscence work in combatting isolation and loneliness felt by many older people.

Last year it ran 155 reminiscence sessions through its 'Forget Me Not' service – in care homes and community venues across Seaton, Honiton and Axminster, helping older people recall and discuss their memories of the past.

Project co-ordinator Gill Amos said: "This grant, from Dunhill Trust, will enable us to expand this work which brings so many benefits to older people in East Devon."

"Life Story will enable us to offer an individual service to help people create their own Life Story or to train a family member or a support worker to develop a Life Story memory board."

"It's a way of preserving a record of the life of an older people in a way that is meaningful and easily accessible."

"This is great for everyone and especially if a person has a dementia diagnosis."

"The Life Story memory boards can act as triggers, conversation pointers and will help carers give individual and friendlier care."

EDVSA would like to hear from those who might benefit from Life Story – either as volunteers helping develop memory boards or from older people and their families and carers who want to know more about how the project might help them.

Flood risk volunteers sought

THE Environment Agency is looking for three enthusiastic individuals to get involved in managing flood risk in Devon, Cornwall and the Isles of Scilly.

The South West Regional Flood and Coastal Committee is one of 12 Committees across the country that make key decisions on local priorities for flood and coastal risk management.

A spokesperson said: "Applicants do not need to be experts in flood and coastal risk management, but some technical understanding would be beneficial."

These are unpaid roles but "reasonable expenses" can be claimed.

Further information can be found at <https://www.gov.uk/government/groups/south-west-regional-flood-and-coastal-committee>

The closing date for applications is Friday, May 6th.

EDDC to level charges and offer grants to sports facility tenants

SPORTS and activity clubs that hire East Devon District Council (EDDC) facilities will be charged on a level playing field and have the opportunity to apply for a grant.

Currently, EDDC leases premises to some 37 sports and activity organisations.

However, these rent charges can vary significantly from club to club due to historical arrangements.

Some clubs have benefitted from reduced rents while there are others that have not received this financial support.

The council's cabinet, as recommended by the Asset Management Forum, decided in June 2015 that any financial support for clubs must be more transparent and reflect a clearly determined subsidy level.

A further report on this is going before cabinet on May 11th.

The council's new approach is to introduce a rent support grant arrangement which will make the allocation of funding support more consistent and fair. From their next rent renewal date, all clubs will be liable to pay market rent for their facility by the council.

To determine the rent, each site will have a valuation, taking into account such factors as the size of the facility, the terms of the lease and the variety of uses of the site.

At the same time, clubs can apply to the district council for a rent support grant and their application will be assessed objectively against a range of criteria.

These assessments will include looking at the benefits the club brings or could bring to the local community, whether they have a good and realistic financial plan and how much the club needs a grant.

Councillor Ian Thomas, EDDC's Cabinet Member for Finance and the grant applications panel chairman, said: "The new grants scheme is all about having a fair accountable system to help those who merit financial support."

"It's about making sure that our limited funds reach the right groups and organisations."

The council will organise a workshop for relevant tenants to answer queries on the application process and take account of their comments.

All sports and activity clubs that lease or hire facilities from EDDC have been sent a letter to let them know about the report going to cabinet and to give them some information on the changes.

They will receive more detailed information in due course.

Charity walk needs more boots on ground this Saturday

STAFF at Axminster Health and Wellbeing Centre would like people to join them for five-mile charity walk on Saturday, May 7th.

Joint centre manager Sara Waplington said: "We will be walking to raise much-needed money for the food bank and for cancer support group Wishing Well."

The food bank provides a life line to many local families in temporary crisis.

Sara added: "These people have often lost their jobs through sickness or redundancy and, typically, have a wait of at least six weeks before receiving any kind of financial support.

"The service we provide is invaluable, but without donations from the local community it would be impossible to maintain.

"Last year our cancer support group, Wishing Well, received a donation from Macmillan which has enabled us to offer free complementary therapy treatments to cancer patients who are members of Wishing Well.

"We would like to be able to continue with this bursary scheme but we need to raise more funds.

"Wishing Well meets weekly on Thursday afternoons from 2.30-4.30pm at the Axminster Health & Wellbeing Centre.

"We will meet at the Lambert's Castle car park at 10.30am.

"If you need more information of how to find this, please give us a call on 01297 32331 or, on the day, 07341 447771."

Participants are asked to bring a picnic and good footwear as some sections may be muddy.

Participants can either bring along sponsorship money or make a donation on the day.

Sara concluded: "Every donation, no matter how small, is much appreciated."

The Project seeks workshop leaders

AXMINSTER and Chard-based The Project would love to hear from people with skills in creative arts, horticulture, mindfulness or relaxation and a willingness to run workshops.

The group offers support to young people affected by emotional and mental health issues, and is looking to recruit new volunteers.

This will be primarily to help run the weekly sessions, but leaders would also love to hear from people with the aforementioned skills.

The Project founder and co-ordinator Debbie Humberstone said: "How much volunteering you choose to do can fit around your existing commitments and you will become a part of a passionate, enthusiastic and friendly team committed to improving the mental health of local young people.

"An understanding or experience of mental health issues is important, although training, support and supervision is offered to all volunteers as part of their involvement with The Project."

The Project is holding a meet-and-greet evening for potential new volunteers on Monday, June 6th at the Young People's Centre (Pippins) in Axminster.

If you are interested in becoming a volunteer, or would simply like some more information, contact The Project in advance to book your place.

A volunteer application form will need to be completed before attending the event.

More details can be found online at www.theprojectyp.org.uk or by e-mailing info@theprojectyp.org.uk or call 07970 167341.

Scrap won prize

AMRIT Saggu-Assi from Axminster is one of six Devon residents who won a cash prize by taking unwanted small electrical items to a recycling centre instead of throwing them away with domestic waste.

The prizes were won in a prize draw to encourage recycling.

A Devon County Council spokesperson said: "The draws are being held in a bid to encourage people to recycle more small electric items like toasters and hairdryers."

Amrit Saggu-Assi won £25.

■ LOAN DEAL: Two of the ponies now at Trinity Hill

FOUR Exmoor ponies will spend the summer grazing the heathland of a nature reserve near Axminster at Trinity Hill.

The ponies at Trinity Hill Nature Reserve arrived on Monday, April 25th on loan from the Royal Society for the Protection of Birds (RSPB) in Aylesbeare, which look after the animals during the winter.

The ponies will spend the summer at Trinity Hill, bringing new life to the heathland through conservation grazing.

East Devon District Council (EDDC) countryside ranger Nathan Robinson said: "Livestock has been used throughout history as an essential component of heathland management.

"Selectively grazing vegetation helps to create a variety of ecological niches with diverse wildlife.

"After the success of grazing the site last year we are hoping to cover a larger patch of land this year.

"The visiting ponies were popular with members of the public and many families explored Trinity Hill as a result of them being there."

Conservation volunteers have spent the winter preparing the site for the ponies, creating two new fencing compartments to expand the area managed through conservation grazing.

A team of volunteers will check on the horses daily to ensure that they are settling in well and have enough food and water.

A spokesperson for EDDC said: "The ponies will be fenced off to ensure the safety of the public and all the grazing areas have been designed so that they do not obstruct any existing pathways.

Members of the public are welcome to come and observe the animals as they graze.

"However, they are reminded that dogs must be kept under close control during this period to avoid any conflict with the new livestock, or the ground nesting birds that make Trinity Hill their home during summer."

Pamper evening nets £400 for charities

NEARLY 40 treatments were delivered by complementary therapists at Axminster Health and Wellbeing Centre's Pamper Evening.

The event was held on Thursday, April 14th as a fundraiser for the centre's community projects – Wishing Well (cancer support) and Axminster Food Bank.

The fundraising pace was impressive, with joint centre manager Sam Norris saying: "We raised just over £400 in three hours, which was brilliant."

Approximately 50 people supported the event including clients, volunteers, staff and trustees and therapists.

Sam added: "We are over the moon to receive some wonderful feedback from people who attended the event."

Clients were treated to a drink and nibbles on arrival and received a 'goody bag' to take home.

The 'goody bag' contents were donated by different businesses including Body Shop, John Lewis, Neal's Yard and Martin's Newsagents.

Sam said: "We are very grateful for these donations and our pamper evening clients were excited to receive them."

"Treatments offered included Rosen method, shiatsu massage, holistic massage, Indian head massage, reiki, anti-ageing facials and reflexology.

"A special thank you to the practitioners, who all gave their time free of charge and in particular to Bryan Groves who offered hand massages, Val Davis who offered information about acupuncture and Linda Lester who talked with people about homeopathy. The Centre's practitioners can be contacted for consultations and treatments via our website www.axminsterwellbeing.com or by calling 01297 32331."

Volunteers paint car park wall

A TEAM of volunteers spruced up a council-owned car park wall in Axminster town centre on a Sunday morning.

Town councillor Jeremy Walden organised the team of volunteers after wall owner East Devon District Council (EDDC) had agreed to supply paint and equipment.

Councillor Walden said the wall had been identified as needing a lick of paint during a 'grumble walk' by EDDC and the town council.

Councillor Walden explained: "We looked at the wall and said: 'That is terrible.'

"Whilst EDDC would probably have got it painted, it would have taken time."

The job was carried out on Sunday, April 24th, and the wall is now sparkling white.

Councillor Walden said: "A big thank you to all who helped to paint the car park wall."

"It just shows what can be done in a couple of hours to make our town better."

Grizzly's £30K boost to local charities

CHEQUES with a combined value of around £30,000 have been handed out by Axe Valley Runners (AVR), organisers of the annual Grizzly race.

Despite rising costs, the Grizzly team could make around £30,000 of donations from this year's event to various charities and organisations.

A presentation evening was held at Winstons on April 22nd.

AVR spokesperson Dave Mutter said: "The cheques were spread among the 23 marshal groups, nine water

by Anders Larsson

station groups, 20 support groups and other helpers, 17 landowners plus three small donations.

"Each person collecting a donation explained where the money will go with such diverse activities as the Natural Seaton Festival, a defibrillator for Branscombe Village Hall, a Dalwood reading room boiler, helping young Seaton footballers travel to France, Children's Hospice South West and many more.

"There was also a donation to enable a Seaton parkrun to be set up, so in the coming months there should be a 5K timed run every Saturday morning at 9am that will be open to all, timed and run by volunteers.

"It was a really cracking evening with a positive approach that left every group that helped feeling as though they had made a difference.

"That brings the total known donations from the Grizzly run to £335,000."

Mr Mutter also reported that Tony Smith has kindly volunteered as race director for next year's showpiece, taking over from Dave Thomas, who stands down after three years. Dave and his wife Liz (the club treasurer) were presented with gifts to thank them for their tremendous efforts.

■ ALL SMILES: Cheque recipients at Winstons

IT'S official – Beer is blooming! A new leaflet praising the attractions of the seaside village was published last month comprising photos, a historical commentary and a map.

"Annie Boalch and myself came up with the idea and we had along chat about it at the horticultural society," said Ursula Makepeace.

"We realised that there were no leaflets available on Beer at the present so decided to put one together for visitors and tourists and, of course, local people if they want one.

The leaflets were distributed this week and are available, free of charge, from local businesses in the village.

Advertiser's Announcement

What is a Veterinary emergency?

VETERINARY practices offer 24hr emergency service for their patients, but not all animal owners are aware of this. Sometimes they worry about calling in the middle of the night, or think the problem can be left until the morning. Although we don't have time to talk in depth about different emergencies, we will highlight common signs in which immediate veterinary attention should be sought:

- Male cats attempting to urinate but not able to pass any urine, or only small amounts. Although this may be a simple cystitis, some are prone to a blocked bladder, which can rapidly become a very serious condition.
- Some large breed dogs are prone to bloated stomachs (GDV). This often occurs after food or exercise. They quickly bloat, start retching, become subdued and can collapse. They need rapid treatment.
- Road traffic accidents are common in cats. Signs vary from scuffed nails, pain, difficulty breathing, bleeding and collapse. Animals should always be checked over as some injuries are not always initially apparent.
- Dogs often pant if hot or excited. If a dog is struggling to breathe or their gums are pale, blue or purple, they need treatment. If a cat pants or is making excessive effort to breathe it needs attention immediately. There are many reasons for this, such as asthma or heart failure but they all need immediate attention.
- Dogs, cats and rabbits may collapse for many different reasons. Any collapsed animal should be seen by a veterinary surgeon to assess the cause and give treatment as necessary.

- Superficial grazes, cuts and wounds that do not bleed or seem painful can be cleaned and dressed at home. If there is continued bleeding, discharge, pain or open wounds, the animal will need pain relief and further treatment.
- With the hotter weather coming, heatstroke becomes a real risk. Dogs left in cars, even for a few minutes, can develop heatstroke and die. They are also at risk if they over exercise in hot weather and do not drink enough. Be aware of excessive panting and increased body temperature.

Dogs and cats frequently eat things they shouldn't. The common culprits are chocolate, raisins, lilies, rat bait, slug bait, antifreeze, permethrin (found in some flea products) in cats and human medications such as ibuprofen. If you suspect any of these, call a vet immediately.

This is not an exhaustive list but may give you food for thought when worrying whether to call a vet or not. Sometimes a phone call and peace of mind may be all you need!

Taster day at yacht club

PUSH the Boat Out (PBO) will return to Axe Yacht Club on Saturday, May 14th, offering free taster sessions to potential sailors.

The PBO concept is a Royal Yachting Association (RYA) initiative encouraging people to come and have a go at sailing.

Whether you're completely new to water-sports, looking to get back on the water, or sail regularly, Axe Yacht Club will be one of the many clubs across the country taking part in the PBO.

The club will be open from 10.30am to 4pm on May 14th so you can give it a go.

Axe Yacht Club Commodore Steve Biddle said: "We are delighted to be taking part. We're inviting the local community to come down to the club, have a go at sailing, see what the club has to offer and get involved."

"Who knows, if you visit you might just get hooked."

RYA Sport Development Manager Duncan Truswell said: "PBO provides the perfect opportunity for you to discover your local sailing venue, like-minded people, have a go at the sport and find out how much fun it is."

As well as seeing the range of sailing cruisers and motor boats that members enjoy, there will be a land-based display of dinghies.

This will include the training dinghies that have been purchased with a Sport England grant, awarded recently to support the development of cadet and family sailing at Axe Yacht Club.

A club spokesperson added: "Weather permitting, you will be able to try a taster sail in a dinghy or onboard a sailing cruiser."

"There will also be information about motor boating and sea fishing from the club, as well as details of the RYA courses offered at the club."

"There's no need to book if you just want to have a look around, but if you would like a taster sail (either dinghy or cruiser) pre-booking is essential."

To book email, ayc-ptbo@rdsailing.org.uk and the club will advise you on what you will need to bring and wear.

For full details about what's going on at Axe Yacht Club, visit www.axeyachtclub.co.uk or follow the club on Facebook and Twitter.

■ FIREFIGHTERS have dealt with a chimney fire involving asbestos in Beer Road, Seaton.

A crew from Seaton was despatched just before 12noon on April 25th.

A spokesperson for the fire and rescue service said: "On arrival the crews got to work quickly using chimney gear and asked for additional assistance for positive pressure ventilation."

At this stage a crew from Colyton was mobilised.

The spokesperson added: "Whilst at work the crews removed a half metre squared sheet of asbestos from the rear of the log burner."

"Control measures were put in place and arrangements made for the correct disposal."

East Devon to go to the polls to elect new crime commissioner

GARETH DERRICK (LABOUR)

COMMODORE Gareth Derrick is a former naval officer whose appointment in command of the Royal Navy and Royal Marines Reserves ended in 2013.

He also has a Master's degree in International Relations from Cambridge University and served as a diplomat in the British embassy in Tokyo from 2007-2010.

After discussing with people throughout the region their concerns about policing he said: "There is a clear need to restore effective local-based policing, focused on crime risks that are changing rapidly and that vary from place to place.

"I am determined to modernise the police workforce and introduce new technology to ensure an ongoing visible presence, and provide the skills to address the complex challenges of today's and tomorrow's crime. Domestic abuse, sexual and other violent crimes, child sexual exploitation and rapidly increasing and worrying internet based crime are doing so much harm to our society. The most vulnerable and disadvantaged in society must get their fair share of policing".

ALISON HERNANDEZ (CONSERVATIVE)

ALISON Hernandez, who up until February was the Chief of Staff for Torbay MP Kevin Foster, has said, if elected to the role of PCC, she would put policing at the heart of the communities both on the streets and online.

She said she would work with the Government to get the best funding deal for the people of Devon and Cornwall, support those affected by crime, and improve crime reporting.

Mrs Hernandez says waiting up to 45 minutes to place a 101 call is unacceptable and adds she will review police station closures across the counties.

ON Thursday, the Devon electorate will go to the polls and decide who should become the new Police and Crime Commissioner (PCC). Devon and Cornwall is guaranteed a new PCC after incumbent Tony Hogg said he wouldn't stand for re-election in 2016. The PCC role holds the current Chief Constable Shaun Sawyer to account, manages the force's budget and shapes police policy.

Mrs Hernandez said: "I want to continue getting the best out of the police and I want to help Devon And Cornwall Police's successes be recognised and celebrated."

WILLIAM MORRIS (INDEPENDENT)

WILLIAM Morris ran for the role of Police and Crime Commissioner in 2012.

The head of the Next Century Foundation – a charity which works in conflict resolution in the Middle East – Mr Morris said: "Our society is built on the bedrock of integrity and compassion, to secure which our police force will deliver law and order through protecting the vulnerable and supporting the values we cherish."

Mr Morris said the police force will deliver their law and order through targeted zero tolerance in areas with increasing levels of violence; Community payback to reduce pressure on the criminal justice system; Greater priority to wildlife and farm crime; Drunk Tanks; Youth Detox; More random vehicle spot checks and enhanced community engagement.

Mr Morris said: "We have a precious safe haven in Devon and Cornwall and the Isles of Scilly. However, levels of violent crime resulting in injury buck the trend and are increasing, as do levels of rape and family abuse, often alcohol related. On my watch, these levels will be reversed. We will deliver the best for the South West. There will be no further police station closures and counter services will be restored by training more special constables."

JONATHAN SMITH (UKIP)

JONATHAN Smith retired from the police force in 2015 having completed 30 years service in the South West. He remained as a police constable and was commended for outstanding police service. He said he has experienced the damage and pain caused by Government meddling.

Mr Smith said: "I am one of the people who believes passionately in an independent but accountable police service, free from political interference. I am not new to fighting to save our unique British bobby having attended Parliament on numerous occasions to highlight this cause."

Mr Smith added: "The imposition of the Police and Crime Commissioner provides the opportunity for politicians to direct police forces according to their own doctrine at the expense of community priorities."

"The office of the Police and Crime Commissioner will cost the Devon and Cornwall taxpayer millions of pounds over the next four years. This money would be far better spent on the police service instead of that extra level of bureaucracy it provides at the moment."

Mr Smith also adds he wants to "expose the gross misuse of public funds associated with this role and lobby for its dissolution".

BOB SPENCER (INDEPENDENT)

BOB Spencer left the police force seven years ago after serving as Acting Assistant Chief Constable. Since leaving he has broadened his experience by advising Government and blue-chip companies on crisis management and leadership.

Mr Spencer has handled several high-profile incidents including commanding the response to the Exeter Giraffe Restaurant terrorist bombing and its aftermath, receiving extremely favourable feedback from the Home Secretary.

Mr Spencer has served in large urban policing environments, commanding response to gangland murders and shootings and, in rural communities, such diverse issues as the Foot-and-Mouth disease outbreak in Devon and the aftermath of several terrorist activities across Devon and Cornwall.

RICHARD YOUNGER-ROSS (LIBERAL DEMOCRAT)

FORMER Liberal Democrat MP, Richard Younger-Ross has three main priorities: To secure a fair funding deal for the Devon and Cornwall police force; To maintain and improve the visibility of the police force and improve the 101 service and to protect the Force from a forced merger with Somerset and Avon which would only make decision making more remote.

He will press to government to abolish the post of Police and Crime Commissioner and believes he would be a truly independently minded in the role.

He said: "I believe that we need a strong democratic oversight of the police, that listens to communities and gives them a greater say in how our streets are policed."

"We do not need that power given to a single person nor can we have the police policing themselves."

"We need a strong body that can call on expert advice but is part of the community. This would be better done by something like the old police authority but with the same powers as have been given to the Police and Crime Commissioner."

"This will save money and allow more resources for more police officers."

More flowers today

COLYFORD AND DISTRICT FLOWER CLUB: The April meeting comprised five different arrangements entitled 'A Little of What You Fancy' by Julia Harrison from Exmouth. Julia gave a very bubbly and chatty afternoon with plenty of tales to tell. A vote of thanks was given by Ann Ord.

The competition of an arrangement in a teacup was won by Carol Hubbard in the intermediate class and Kay White in the advanced class. Three new visitors were welcomed.

The next meeting is on Tuesday, May 3rd (today) at Colyford Hall at 2pm. Carolyn Andrews from Newton Abbot will demonstrate 'Here comes summer' and the competition for those wanting to enter will be 'A rose by any other name'.

Dowsing explained

HONITON PROBUS: At the April meeting, members heard a talk on dowsing by Exeter-based expert Charles Palmer, who runs courses and gives talks on the subject throughout Devon.

Contrary to common opinion, the art of dowsing is not just about locating subterranean water, it extends to identifying the buried remains of old buildings, structures and other artefacts.

Charles demonstrated his knowledge and even enabled some of the membership to successfully 'have a go'.

Portrait demonstration

AXMINSTER ART SOCIETY: John Meaker gave society members an excellent presentation of figure and portrait painting. After showing slides and drawings by himself and his students, he first created a charcoal portrait, using the same charcoal dust as used by firework manufacturers, then a painting, detailing colours and techniques.

John will run an all-day workshop in All Saints Village Hall on May 21st.

The next meeting will be on May 18th in The United Reformed Church Hall, Chard Street, Axminster, when Karl Taylor will demonstrate Flower Studies in Acrylics.

For further details please visit www.axminsterartsociety.uk or contact the secretary on 01460 221088.

theWI Women's Institutes ROUND UP

KILMINGTON: Joy thanked everyone for their help at the successful group meeting and then introduced Carol Boote to speak about Marie Curie.

The competition winners were Phyllis and Margaret and the flower of the month Joy and Margaret.

Outings were discussed but no dates decided. Joy reported on the Spring Council meeting at Torquay.

The next meeting is the Annual Meeting and is on May 12th at 7pm in the village hall. It will be attended by WI Advisor Jenny Roberts.

Flower arranging with music

SIDMOUTH FLOWER ARRANGING CLUB: At the April meeting, Barbara Clatworthy based her programme entirely on the colours green and white, which was something new for the club.

Barbara comes from Coombe Martin in North Devon and has been qualified to demonstrate for less than two years, but was most assured and efficient.

Her use of music as she finished off each design added another dimension to the afternoon and was very enjoyable.

She used some interesting foliage, but limited the flower varieties, repeating avalanche roses, white gerberas, white lisianthus and green chrysanthemums.

Driftwood and wide ribbons of green flat medellino canes were used in different designs and a rustic four pronged candelabra made a grand table centre piece for a dinner party.

Barbara is sure to visit again sometime, she has much more to show.

Next month on May 24th is an open meeting with national demonstrator Coral Gardener in St Francis Hall at 2pm — visitors £10. It is sure to be spectacular.

School to add nursery?

HAWKCHURCH: A village primary school hopes to have a nursery up and running by September.

Hawkchurch Primary School, described by Ofsted as "a good school where pupils achieve well", hopes the nursery will increase pupil numbers.

Head of teaching and learning Jayne Vanstone explained: "There is a mum and toddler group in the village, but no nursery or pre-school.

"So we are looking at setting up a nursery on-site in September to make sure of a feeder to Key Stage 1.

"Early indications are good in terms of expressions of interest."

Staff, pupils and governors are buoyed by the recent Ofsted report, which also said: "It is a harmonious school community where all staff strive to make things even better."

Anyone interested in more information can call the school on 01297 678331.

Fun dog show

ALL SAINTS Primary School's PTFA will hold a fun dog show on Saturday, May 14th at the school. Registration is at 11am, to be "followed by fun and games".

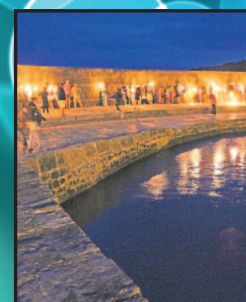

Classes start at 1.30pm and there will be ten of them, including best decorative lead competition.

Entry is £1 per class, and organisers promise "great entertainment".

For further details, contact Amanda on 07713 894152. The event is subject to weather conditions, and all proceeds will go towards All Saints Primary School.

Bus service: "use it or lose it"

I READ with interest your article about the more frequent service for the renamed X52 Jurassic Coaster service operated by First Wessex as part of their Summer 2016 timetable ('Beer to Exeter bus linked restored... but will it just be for the summer?', Pulman's View From, April 19th). Contrary to what was reported, widespread support for a more regular service on this route has been displayed by other local councils than just Beer and Seaton.

In early January I canvassed Axmouth, Beer, Colyton and Seaton parish councils, asking them whether they supported a more frequent service for the X53 Jurassic Coaster route during the summer months. Moreover, should First Wessex not have been able to deliver this due to commercial reasons, I then asked each council's views on whether they would support an alternative timetable I had proposed which improved the service's frequency over the current Winter timetable. All these councils supported my efforts and, following the item being openly discussed by Seaton Town Council at their meeting held on Monday, January 25th (which your reporter Mr Larsson attended), a report based on these local councils' feedback was submitted to First Wessex the following day. It was acknowledged a week later by their then Weymouth manager, David Shurden.

I would add on a personal note that I am a huge supporter of the X53 Jurassic Coaster service, having used it on a regular basis since 2004. When I decided to study for my first degree it was down to the availability and frequency of the X53 service that enabled me to do this, as driving into Exeter on a daily basis was not a viable option. The alternative 52A service by a rival operator had only just been extended to Seaton but was more expensive, the buses uncomfortable and it took longer to arrive at destinations because it seemed as if there was a bus stop every 200 yards in Sidmouth and when entering Exeter.

When I went on to complete my post-graduate Masters degree at the same university, it was the X53 service that became my public service saviour once again, offering a frequent and affordable service, even when I was spending seven days a week doing the commute to and from Exeter. Too right I owe a huge debt of gratitude to First Wessex.

I still use the X53 Jurassic Coaster bus on a daily basis and am amazed that more people are not taking advantage of the Dorset Weekly ticket, which costs just £20. If more people used this bus instead of driving into Exeter for work or taking their kids to school we would not have the familiar early morning problems of congestion at Clyst St Mary and Sowton.

Most of the cars creating this congestion have one person in them and many of them will not be used for the purpose of the driver's job beyond the commute to their workplace.

As Beer parish councillor Mo Westlake quite rightly points out, "use it or lose it". If we ever did lose the X53 Jurassic Coaster service (and I hope we never do) then it will be those on low incomes, those who cannot drive and those passengers who do not want the hassle of driving into Exeter on a daily basis who will ultimately lose out. So come on, support this excellent bus service!

Young people must vote for their future

NOW is the time for the 18 – 30 year olds in Great Britain to step up to the plate and make their feelings known. These are the people who will have to live their lifetime with whatever the outcome of the forthcoming European Referendum.

I, together with the majority of current pensioners are the lucky ones. Since Edward Heath signed the treaty and Harold Wilson later held the referendum confirming the majority of British people embraced the European Union, we have lived through 40 years of peace, harmony, free movement and co-operation with our immediate European neighbours. We have seen unprecedented growth of income and subsequent spending power. We've seen the integration of many nationalities who, in the main, have bought into and added to Great Britain's proud and democratic traditions despite Enoch Powell's bloody predictions.

What does the next 40 years hold for us? Who knows, perhaps a break-up of the Union, and that could include Britain, as well as the European Union. Certainly a shift in global superpowers and with it a greater leverage on trading arrangements with individual countries. (One only has to look at what supermarkets can do to their smaller suppliers.) Strength comes from size and power.

Having lived through a lifetime that would be the envy of any generation why would I want to turn it on its head with all the uncertainty that goes with it? As, like everyone over 18 can, I will vote, and I will certainly vote to stay in. But it is far more important for the younger voters to make their feelings known as they are the ones who have to live with whatever the decision throughout the next 40 years.

Fund the falcons

I LIVE in Market Square in Axminster town. I have been watching the seagulls as, on the feature in the papers that Axminster does not have funds to try to get the birds pushed on with falcons – well, if you saw the way they are attacking the recycling bins and landfill as I'm emailing you this message, maybe the council might have a different opinion. They are ripping open the black sacks and now there is paper and other things spreading around. And yes, it would be down to the council to clean this mess up. I've given up trying to scare them away. And soon they will be having chicks, so even more...

Less politics, more police, safer communities

Devon & Cornwall & the Isles of Scilly Police & Crime
Commissioner election on May 5th

Promoted by Bob Spencer, 5 Harefield Cottages, Lympstone, Exmouth, Devon EX8 5EX

Advertiser's Announcement

INDEPENDENCE from political ties and an extensive knowledge of the job are two vital qualifications for the next police and crime commissioner for Devon and Cornwall and the Isles of Scilly says candidate Bob Spencer.

Mr Spencer, a former senior police officer who is fighting unsupported for the post of commissioner at the elections being held on Thursday next week, says the resignation of the current PCC from the Conservative Party demonstrates the need for independence.

Mr Spencer pointed out some of the most important jobs in the South West and who was in post and their experience.

Sarah Wollaston MP – a doctor – sits on the Commons Health Committee.

Ben Bradshaw MP – was Secretary of State for Media and Sport.

He said: "Surely a strong practical knowledge of policing and experience of managing a £144m budget is a must for the next PCC. This knowledge, together with independence from party politics, is not just my view, 12 police areas in the country have independent Police and Crime Commissioners. It is also the view of Isabella Sankey, Director of Policy for Liberty who stated: "Independent policing is as vital as an independent judiciary and Chief Constables should be above party politics not subordinate to it."

Said Mr Spencer: "If policing becomes solely about winning votes, there will undoubtedly be casualties – the needs of those without a voice will quickly slip down the agenda, as will issues that are not sufficiently eye-catching."

"An independent police force is a crucial ingredient of a healthy democracy. Policing should be governed by the need to keep our streets safe, protect the vulnerable and uphold the law of the land. That leaves no room for political point scoring."

"No fancy office, no accommodation bills when staying overnight in the force area, no deputies, and no waste! Every penny frontline!"

Songs from the shows at Axe Vale

THE Axe Vale Singers will be performing on the 6th and 7th of May at Seaton Methodist Church Hall.

This year they will be singing songs from My Fair Lady and Kiss me Kate; The Mikado alongside The Rhythm of Life; The Lion King and songs from Chess and Anthem. The evening will conclude with a medley from Mamma Mia.

Chairman Michelle Hague said that this year they are also delighted to be able to raise funds for Hospiscare, who will be present at both performances, and who have sponsored the tickets and programmes.

The Axe Vale Singers are made up from many local enthusiasts who simply enjoy singing and wish to share their love of song and music with others. The numbers have steadily grown over the season and they are delighted to see our chorus swell once again, although they would very much like to strengthen the male chorus. Gentlemen of all ages are welcome.

The Axe Vale Singers meet through the winter months on Thursday evenings at 7.30pm in the Methodist Church hall, working towards a show at this time of year. Their philosophy is to have fun and to share their enthusiasm with as many as they can. "Everyone is welcome," says Michelle.

Their musical director, Claire Browne, has been leading the company for the last two years and her ability and sense of humour along with a large amount of skill has coaxed an enthusiastic performance from them all.

Pianist Kier Lewis has also been playing for them for nearly two years, and has become an invaluable member of the company.

On the back of last year's success there will be two performances in the Methodist Church Hall. The Friday night has a light supper (included in the price of £8.50) to be served at 7pm, with the performance to start at 7.45pm. The Saturday evening will start with the performance at 7.45pm, at the price of £6.50. Tea and coffee can be purchased in the interval at both performances from the front foyer area.

Tickets are available from Seaton Print, Fore Street, the local Hospiscare Shop and from 01297 599625.

Trains delayed by children on line

TRAINS were delayed after two children were spotted on the railway line between Crewkerne and Axminster, near Chard Junction.

British Transport Police was called at about 5.30pm on Tuesday, April 19th.

A spokesperson said that a caller reported having seen two children walking on the railway line.

A search was conducted, but nobody was found.

A spokesperson for South West Trains said: "There was a trespass incident between Crewkerne and Axminster, which affected a small number of trains with delays of around 20 minutes."

Annual clay shoot

THE Colyton and Colyford branch of the Conservative Association will hold their annual charity clay shoot at Widworthy Barn, Wilmington, on Saturday, June 4th.

The event will start at 10am and last entries will be a 3.30pm. Entry costs £15 for 50 sporting clays, £12 for the second round or £12 for under 16s and £10 for the second round.

Cash prizes will be on offer for first, second and third places, plus in ladies and junior categories.

Hot refreshments will be available for donations towards this year's chosen charities, CLIC Sargent and St Cuthbert's Church in Widworthy.

VIEW FROM the beehive

WE'VE had a wonderfully busy April with a sell-out show from "Show of Hands", comedy with "Kiss your Love Goodbye", a fab gig with the Welsh band "Rusty Shackle" who really got the Beehive jumping! Movies and Magic as well as the annual "Festival of Imagination", which was thronging with curious minds, old and young. It was brilliant to see three generations of some families coming along to indulge in experiments, crafty physics and listen to some fascinating talks.

Now we leap into a mad May with some splendid music evenings courtesy of The Honiton Festival, "ZRI" present Schubert's String Quintet in C, reimagined to sound as radical as when it was first written. Bursting with gypsy and Hungarian themes with traditional tunes. On Saturday, May 14th "The New Foxtrot Serenaders" come to town, so don your dancing shoes and come to the Beehive to hear this great big dance band playing classics from the 1920s, 30s and 40s, think Gershwin, Kern, Berlin and Cole Porter - we're in for a real treat!

For a bit of Country come Americana, urban blue grass, great harmonies, witty lyrics and stomping heartbreakers look no further than the wondrous "Police Dog Hogan" they gave us a stonking evening's entertainment last year, and we're on course for another sell out on Thursday, May 12th.

On Thursday, May 19th das sehr gut Comedian Henning Wehn is coming! If you want tickets, don't delay as they've nearly all gone.

Honiton Community Theatre Company kick start our Shakespeare festival on May 20th & 21st with their production of "Twelfth Night" which features live music, outrageous comedy, unrequited love, cross dressing and Shakespeare's wonderful verse, don't miss this!

Looking forward to "Room for Sound" on Friday, May 27th, our annual big gig, for some of the best young local talented musicians and singers from Honiton and beyond. This is for the youth and intrigued, for only a fiver, a great chance to see a fab local line up which includes: Thekeystonez, Alan Todd, Radhatch, Harri Pick, Out of Gravity, Samantics and Josh Cottingham.

On Tuesday, May 31st, "The Girls of the Globe" a really engaging selection of Shakespeare's women will appear in Natasha Ayton-Way's performance. From Cleopatra to Juliet, each monologue is seamlessly linked by the most common necessity of everyday life... a woman's shoes!

We are thrilled to have "The Wonderful Wizard of Oz" performed by the award winning physical theatre company, Le Navet Bete. If you have never seen one of their shows I would urge you to see this. They regularly sell out at The Phoenix and Plymouth and no wonder. They are also offering a comedy clowning master class from 10-12 on the same day as their show Saturday, June 4th. Check the website for details.

Add to all this our selection of films: The Danish Girl, Eddie the Eagle, Singin' in the Rain, Star Wars, the Force awakens and the Horrible Histories comedy, Bill then hopefully there's something for all tastes and ages. See you anon!

What's in a name?

JAZZ PIANIST extraordinaire Mike Denham returns to Ilminster Arts Centre on Friday, May 13th with a new show based on an unusual premise: the extraordinary preponderance of jazz musicians who have shared the surname "Johnson".

Various "Johnsons" have figured highly in the history of jazz: Lonnie,

Pete, James P, Bunk, Budd, Osie, and JJ to name just a few. These Johnsons, who were not necessarily related to each other but who were all talented musicians, played and composed at the highest level, producing some of the best known tunes in the world of jazz. Mike will be telling the story of some of them and playing their biggest hits, with anecdotes relating to the tunes, styles and names of the Johnsons who wrote and played them.

Tickets are £10 (pre-show supper £13 at 7pm, booked in advance) from www.themeetinghouse.org.uk or by calling 01460 54973.

Don't stop them now, they're having a good time!

THE BOHEMIANS, established in 1996, re-enact the glory days of Queen including the craziness of the 70s and the magic of the 80s, proving themselves to be the most dynamic and exciting Queen Tribute Band currently touring.

Rob Comber's outrageous stage antics and personality makes him the perfect Freddie. Christopher Gregory's Red Special enables him to get as close as possible to Brian May's inimitable style; Wayne Bourne hammers the tubs like drummer Roger Taylor; and Kevin Goodwin provides that unmistakable Queen backline on bass.

Their high-energy two hour show with full staging, lighting, backdrops and pyrotechnics has earned them the reputation of being the world's most exciting Queen Tribute act.

All the greatest hits are played with aplomb and authenticity -

The Bohemians ability to recreate Queen live is something truly special, and you can see them in action at The Gateway on Saturday, May 21st, doors open 7.30pm. Tickets are £13 in advance or £16 on the door from www.seatongateway.co.uk

Cult icon John Otway to play live at Winstons

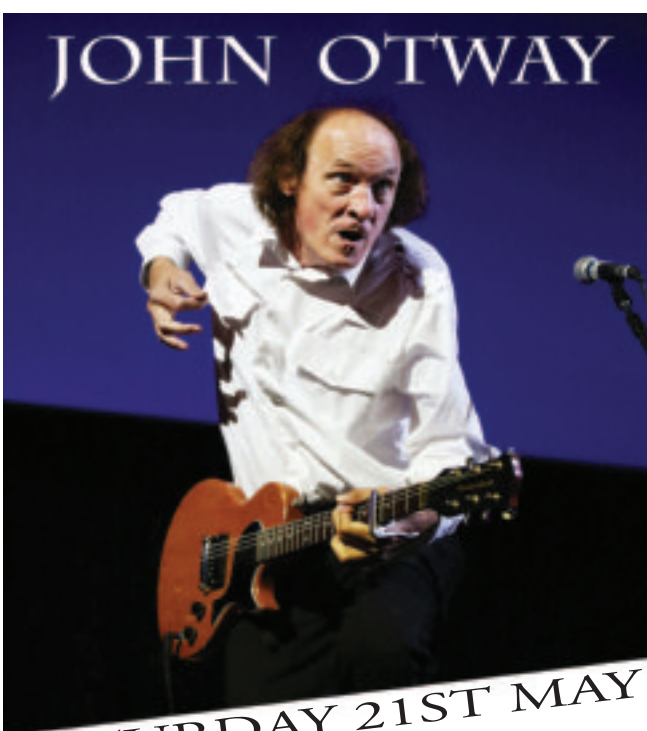

WINSTONS proudly presents the one and only John Otway on Saturday, May 21st.

John is a singer-songwriter who has built up a sizable cult following through extensive touring, a surreal sense of humour and a self-deprecating underdog persona.

Having had a surprise chart hit in 1977 with 'Really Free', he had to wait 25 years for his second hit with "bunsen burner" thanks largely to a campaign by his fans to get him a hit for his 50th birthday. If you have never seen him live then you are in for a real treat.

Manager Chris Oakes said: "this is a big event for us and I promise if you never go to another gig in your life do not miss this, it will be the most unique, surreal, funniest gig you will see, check him out on you tube and his website for a taster of what to expect".

Tickets are available now priced £10 in advance, £13 on the night and are available from Winstons, Beer Village Stores and Ax Music Axminster.

SATURDAY 21ST MAY
at Winstons, Seaton

All tickets priced £10.00 in advance or £13.00 on the door

THE Honiton Festival returns to St Paul's Church at 1pm on Friday, May 6th for a recital by the exciting young pianist Ryan Drucker. Ryan will be playing a few Scarlatti Sonatas, Ravel's Miroirs and Chopin's Ballade No.3.

Note that tickets (£11) are available only at the door. For further details of this and the remaining two concerts, see www.thehonitonfestival.co.uk where you can download the Festival Brochure and detailed programme notes when available.

THE Honiton Festival is at The Beehive again featuring ZRI (Zum Roten Igel – the Viennese café frequented by Brahms, Schubert and others). This talented Quintet will be playing Schubert's String Quintet in C, but re-imagined to sound as radical as when it was when first written. The work will be interspersed with Hungarian and other gypsy style music, which may well have you dancing in front of the band before you realise! Bring your dancing shoes to the hall on Saturday, May 7th for the 7.30pm start. Tickets are £14 and can be purchased in advance in person from The Beehive, by telephone on 01404 384050 or at www.beehivehoniton.co.uk. Student tickets (£5) are available only at the door on the night.

For further details of this and the remaining concert, see www.the-honitonfestival.co.uk where you can download the Festival Brochure and detailed programme notes when available.

SEATON PROPERTY MARKET FOLLOWS NATIONAL TREND

PENNY'S Estate Agents are reporting a lively start to the year, with a strong first quarter of sales in a range of price ranges. Mark Goodenough of Pennys comments as follows 'To the end of March we saw some frenetic buying activity as purchasers and their solicitors focused on beating the introduction of the 3% surcharge imposed on second property purchases. The unexpected introduction of this additional buying levy, by the Chancellor, left many investment & holiday home buyers with little time to complete their purchase to avoid an additional tax sting! In April we have seen the return to more stable market conditions with buyers' appetite for home purchases continuing unabated-but, I would add, realistic and accurate valuation remains the order of the day to generate viewing activity and ultimately a buyer.'

If you are considering buying or selling this spring, the expert Pennys team, with offices across Exeter and East Devon, can be contacted on 01297 22224.

The family SUV that never forgets – the updated Land Rover Discovery Sport

THE 2017 Land Rover Discovery Sport is the car that never forgets thanks to the world-first integration of Tile's advanced tracking app. The premium compact SUV is the first vehicle to incorporate the pioneering technology in addition to enhanced new design, convenience and safety features.

The rush to work or the school run can often result in important items being left behind, but the new Discovery Sport is designed to make forgotten wallets and missing bags a thing of the past. The app uses Tile tags, tiny Bluetooth trackers that can be attached to important items and used to track their whereabouts using smartphone technology.

With the average person spending 15 minutes a day searching for lost items*, the unique in-vehicle app promises to put an end to this wasted time. Once the app is initiated using the central touchscreen, customers are alerted if specified items are not inside the vehicle and are even able to get on-screen directions to their last known location.

Peter Virk, Jaguar Land Rover's Director of Connected Technologies & Apps, said, "Losing your wallet or leaving your child's sports kit behind isn't just an inconvenience. The realisation you've mislaid something important can be a cause of distraction. Our unique partnership with Tile means customers can check the status of tagged items using Discovery Sport's touchscreen, so forgotten items will be a thing of the past."

Jaguar Land Rover is the first automotive company to integrate Tile with its in-car entertainment system. The partnership allows customers to establish a list of 'Essentials' using the vehicle touchscreen, which are always checked when the app is initiated. If items are lost inside the vehicle, customers are able to sound a 90-decibel alarm on the Tile tag, to help locate them.

Mike Farley, CEO of Tile, said, "We're really excited to be partnering with Jaguar Land Rover. We believe this integration will provide many benefits such as improved assurance and peace of mind about the whereabouts of essential items, helping drivers save time before they embark on journeys. Having increased the number of Tiles in circulation from two million to over five million in the last six months alone, we are confident of the extensive advantages this will bring to Jaguar Land Rover customers globally."

The Tile smartphone app is compatible with both Android and Apple platforms and the number of items that can be tracked is limitless.

Premium Design Enhancements
New for the 2017 Discovery Sport is a Graphite Pack which comprises a Dark Atlas colour finish to the grille, bonnet script and side vents, a Corris Grey contrast roof and Narvik Black mirror caps. The Graphite Pack is available as an option on SE and SE Tech derivatives and includes a new 19-inch wheel option.

Gerry McGovern, Chief Design

Officer, said: "Our customers want their vehicles to stand out and expect a wide range of personalisation options. With its polished finishes the additional Graphite Pack gives our compact SUV a uniquely distinctive appearance".

New 2017 Discovery Sport is also available in four new body colours: Silicon Silver, Farallon Black, Carpathian Grey and Aruba metallic finishes. The premium compact SUV is manufactured at Jaguar Land Rover's award-winning Halewood plant in the UK and is on sale now with prices starting from £31,095.

Cutting-Edge Convenience Technology

Jaguar Land Rover's updated InControl Touch Pro infotainment system is at the heart of the technological additions. The new set-up provides a larger 10.2-inch touchscreen and intuitive menus, replicating the look and feel of smartphone apps and allowing users to swipe and pinch, just as they would on a tablet.

The screen does not require any 'hard' buttons and provides a super-wide 21:9 format with higher resolution than the standard 8-inch touchscreen. In addition, the increased pixel-count provides superior clarity when using the dual-screen option, ensuring neither driver nor passenger sacrifices screen quality.

InControl Touch Pro's state-of-the-art capability is delivered through a combination of a super-fast access 60GB Solid State Drive (SSD), which is around 100 per cent faster than a typical hard disc drive (HDD) and is the first automotive use of Intel's high-performance Quad-Core computing and graphics processor.

Volvo Cars to launch UK's largest and most ambitious autonomous driving trial

VOLVO Cars, the premium car maker, is to begin the UK's most ambitious autonomous driving trial next year to speed up the introduction of a technology that promises to massively reduce car accidents as well as free up congested roads and save drivers valuable time.

The Swedish company, whose name has been synonymous with automotive safety ever since it invented the three-point seatbelt in 1959, is pioneering the development of autonomous driving (AD) systems globally as part of its commitment that no one will be seriously injured or killed in a new Volvo by the year 2020.

"Autonomous driving represents a leap forward in car safety," said Håkan Samuelsson, president and chief executive of Volvo Cars. "The sooner AD cars are on the roads, the sooner lives will start being saved."

Mr Samuelsson will make his comments at a seminar sponsored by Volvo and Thatcham, the insurance industry's research organisation, in London on May 3 entitled 'A Future with Autonomous Driving Cars – Implications for the Insurance Industry' at the America Conference Centre in London.

Volvo's UK-based test will be called 'Drive Me London' and will differentiate itself from other AD programmes by using real families driving AD cars on public roads.

Volvo will source its data from these everyday users and use this data to develop AD cars that are suitable for real-world driving conditions, rather than the more unrealistic conditions found on test tracks. Thatcham Research will be providing the technical data analysis and any professional test drivers needed as part of the trial.

'Drive Me London' will begin in early 2017 with a limited number of semi-autonomous driving cars and expand in 2018 to include up to 100 AD cars, making it the largest and most extensive AD testing programme on Britain's streets.

The introduction of AD cars promises to revolutionise Britain's roads in four main areas – safety, congestion, pollution and time saving.

Independent research has revealed that AD has the potential to reduce the number of car accidents significantly, in some cases by up to 30 per cent. Up to 90 per cent of all accidents are presently caused by driver error or distraction, something that should largely disappear with AD cars.

"Vehicle manufacturers are predicting that highly autonomous vehicles, capable of allowing the driver to drop 'out of the loop' for certain sections of their journey, will be available from around 2021. Without doubt, crash frequency will also dramatically reduce. We've already seen this with the adoption of Autonomous Emergency Braking (AEB) on many new cars. Research in the US by NHTSA predicts that by 2035, as a result of autonomous and connected cars, crashes will be reduced by 80%. Additionally, if a crash unfortunately can't be avoided, then the impact speed will also drop as a result of the system's performance – reducing the severity of the crash," said Peter Shaw, chief executive of Thatcham Research.

"Driverless cars will see our journeys become faster, cleaner and safer. The UK is leading the way in developing the technology needed to make this a reality thanks to our world-class research base, and these types of trials will become increasingly common," Sajid Javid, UK Secretary of State for Business, Innovation and Skills said. "Such advances in technology prove the fourth industrial revolution is just around the corner, and our determination to be at the forefront is why we are attracting top names from across the globe for real-world testing."

In terms of congestion, AD cars allow traffic to move more smoothly, reducing traffic jams and by extension cutting dangerous emissions and associated pollution. Lastly, reduced congestion saves drivers valuable time.

"There are multiple benefits to AD cars," said Mr Samuelsson. "That is why governments globally need to put in place the legislation and infrastructure to allow AD cars onto the streets as soon as possible. The car industry cannot do it all by itself. We need governmental help."

One week to go until the MG GS is unveiled

THE countdown is on! In only seven days time, MG Motor UK will be unveiling its all-new SUV to attendees of the London Motor Show.

MG announced in October last year that it was the first volume manufacturer to confirm attendance at the London based car show. The British brand decided that this was the perfect platform to unveil its new SUV, the MG GS.

Following a tour around the UK in the form of augmented reality, members of the public attending the Battersea Park show will get the opportunity to get up-close and personal with the real MG GS. MG will be announcing further teasers about the car at the event, which is sure to generate more interest in this exciting new model.

Matthew Cheyne, Head of Sales and Marketing for MG, said: "Next week will be a really exciting moment for us, as we're getting closer to launching this fantastic car into the market. Members of the public are finally getting the chance to get their hands on the UK model and see for themselves what an outstanding car this is.

"We're extremely proud of the GS, so we're looking forward to unveiling it and speaking to attendees of the event about how easily it will fit into their lifestyle. I can assure potential customers that it will be consistent with the MG-family pricing strategy."

Those attending the motor show will see MG's latest range in the central display area in Battersea Park. Tickets are £15 and the event runs from Friday 6 May until Sunday 8 May.

If you want to receive updates on the MG GS, find out when the new brochure is available or when you can get your hands on a GS, register your interest on the MG website www.mg.co.uk/gs.

About MG Motor

The iconic British MG brand can trace its history back to 1924 and is world famous for making stylish cars that are fun to drive and own and are sold at remarkably affordable prices. Modern MGs, which are designed, engineered and finally assembled in Longbridge, Birmingham, continue this long and rich MG tradition.

Two cars currently come off the Longbridge assembly lines: the MG6 and the MG3 with several models planned for the immediate and longer-term future.

The MG6 is a medium-sized fastback offering fantastic dynamic handling, high levels of interior comfort and a tremendously spacious cabin area with a cavernous boot. The MG6 won the category '£17,500 and under' in the Caravan Club Towcar of the Year Awards in 2015. It also won the 2014 Auto Express Driver Power Best Handling Award and in 2016 was voted the third best family car and retained its reputation for handling by winning a silver award in the national public survey.

The MG3 is a new generation supermini which brings fun and style to this sector of the market at very affordable prices. The super-fun car was voted fifth best supermini in the Auto Express Driver Power survey. The 1.5-litre petrol-powered car can also be personalised, so owners have the option of giving their car their own style-statement.

MG was voted the fifth best manufacturer in the UK in the Auto Express Driver Power Awards in 2016. MG was the fastest growing brand in Britain in 2014 as shown by official figures issued by the Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders. Currently MG has the fastest growing network of dealers in the UK as sales continue to surge.

Honiton stun leaders with late fightback

Seaton surge continues – Beer run Tops close – Hawks back to winning ways

Saturday, April 30th
SW PENINSULA LEAGUE D1
AXMINSTER TOWN 6 EXWICK VILLA 0

THREE goals in each half saw Axminster Town cruise to victory in their final home game of the season.

Teenager Tony Pinder opened the scoring with a tap-in in the seventh minute after Jon Hurford had flicked on Gary Spiller's cross.

The visitors responded with three efforts that were all saved by in-form home keeper Scott Wells-Burr.

But Oscar Latas jinked his way through the Villa defence to make it 2-0 in the 39th minute.

Hurford all-but sealed the win with superb free-kick beyond the reach of Exwick gloveman Fred Tonkin.

Villa did strike the crossbar after the interval but an unlikely fightback was severely quashed by three Ax goals in the last 16 minutes.

First Luke Finn crossed for Latas to score close in. Latas then completed his hat-trick, again from close range, in the 85th minute and substitute Dan Beer completed the half-dozen. Axminster complete their season tomorrow evening when they head off to face Credition United.

Tigers; S.Wells-Burr, M.Smale, J.Hurford, E.Dyer, C.Duchenski, C.Garrett, G.Spiller, O.Latas, B.Miller, T.Pinder, L.Finn. Subs; B.Clay, N.Warren, D.Beer.

SIDMOUTH TOWN 3 TOTNES & DARTINGTON 1

SIDMOUTH Town ended their five-game winless run with goals from Ryan Davies, Ollie Binioin and Jamie Orchard.

No other details available.

Match reports

TOPSHAM TOWN 1 BEER ALBION 0
Beer Albion put up a valiant display away at high-fliers Topsham on Saturday writes Richard Honnor.

After an even first half Topsham started the second with much more intensity and the game started to open up. Beer bravely matched their opponents and Pedro Fontes twice went close.

Then substitute Jacob Clode shot straight at the keeper when put through.

But Topsham were now creating good chances of their own. Beer keeper Jones was forced to save with his feet and defender Joe Adkin cleared off the line.

The Beer back line held out until the 87th minute when they were caught square by a long ball which was coolly slotted home by Alex Gibbons.

There were plenty of good performances in the Beer ranks particularly in defence where MoM Martin Adkin was outstanding and Josh Moughton, up from the reserves had a fine game. Beer were away at Bow yesterday and Honiton tomorrow (Wednesday). On Saturday they entertain Hatherleigh Town (3pm ko) when the sponsor is Annings Plumbing & Heating Engineers Ltd.

SOUTH ZEAL UTD 0 MILLWEY RISE 7

Division Six
IT TOOK an own goal by a South

Zeal defender in the 40th minute to open the scoring in what had been until then a cut and thrust encounter writes Dick Sturch.

Levi Hoole made it 2-0 in the 43rd minute, pouncing on a through ball from Tyler Warren.

In the second-half, a goalkeeping error from a Warren strike provided the third goal and soon after the ball squeezed through the keeper's grasp from a corner to make it four.

Millwey were then awarded a free-kick just outside the area which Warren converted for their fifth goal with a powerful shot which gave the keeper no chance.

Sam Burke then set up Hoole's second which was soon followed by his hat-trick when he headed home from a Warren corner to complete the scoring.

On the day the Lewis brothers, Matty and Haydn, together with Simon Smith, were outstanding, but this was a great all round performance.

Twenty two goals in three games, without conceding speaks for itself and augurs well for their remaining games which include both front runners, Winchester and Whipton & Pinhoe, at Cloakham Lawns.

Levi Hoole broke the Millwey Rise all-time scoring record with 63 goals.

Unfortunately five of those have to be deducted as they were scored against East Budleigh 2nds who have withdrawn from the league. It still leaves him with five games to score the four he needs.

AFTER trailing 0-2 and 1-3 down and with just 15 minutes remaining, HONITON TOWN staged a remarkable comeback to beat Premier leaders NEWTOWN 4-3.

Two-goal Dale O'Donoghue and Ben Howard had Newtown in charge, but Honiton staged a scintillating finish with two Corey Couch goals levelling the game and Tim Genders getting the winner. Honiton's first came from Lewis Couch.

Elsewhere in Premier FENITON won 4-0 at CHARD TOWN with second half goals from Ben Ede, Phil Everett 2 and MoM Dan Norman.

SEATON TOWN ended an excellent week with a 4-1 victory at EXWICK VILLA, Richard Durrant and Josh French both scoring twice.

UPTOTTERY kept their interest alive as they pounded WELLINGTON TOWN 5-1, Max McKeown getting a hat-trick. Sam Winslade and Dan Scadden also scored.

HENRY'S CRONIES are Division Two champions and celebrate their third title in as many years after crushing TIPTON ST JOHN 8-0.

LYME REGIS, chasing second place, beat HEMYOCK 4-1 with Julian Smith, Joe Bond and Rob Fellingham (pen) on target. The Seaside were further boosted by slips from rivals CHULMLEIGH who were held 1-1 by EAST BUDLEIGH.

The top game in Division Three saw leaders LAPFORD held to a 1-1 draw by WOODBURY, which may have boosted AXMOUTH who saw off THORVERTON 5-0.

However, the two big matches in Division Four both ended 2-2. Second place Bampton whose Rhys Parsons and Liam Ayre scored, against promotion rivals UNIVERSITY whose Ben Moffatt and Teddy Opera scored.

Third place HONITON drew by the same score against PINHOE. There was a shock in Division Five which saw OTTERTY ST MARY crash 3-1 at home to PRIORY.

TIVVY PARK RANGERS celebrated promotion from Division Seven as they beat SEATON TOWN 3-1.

SIDMOUTH TOWN are still in with a chance of promotion from Division Eight after they beat CHAGFORD 3-2. Ali Forsyth, Jon Dunn and an own goal won it for the Vikings.

Although not playing, NEWTON POPPLEFORD and LAPFORD were able to celebrate promotion from Division Nine following AMORY GREEN ROVERS 3-3 draw against WITHERIDGE.

HAWKCHURCH United kept alive their Division One promotion hopes with a 2-0 win over rivals Drimpton that had manager Martin Bright purring: "That was our best performance of the season – it makes me question where we have been for the last five matches?"

During that time the Hawks won just once, but Saturday's win keeps them in second spot – Drimpton are still lurking in fourth with games in-hand.

FARWAY UNITED were without a fixture on Saturday but travel to Chard Rangers on Thursday and entertain Merriott Dynamos on Saturday.

Down in Division Three a 2-2 draw at home against Chard Rangers earned FARWAY UNITED RESERVES a useful point.

The team have four home games remaining beginning with Uplyme Reserves and Wednesday and Halstock on Saturday.

Big win for Ax ladies

AXMINSTER Cricket Club's newly formed Ladies team beat Cornwood 2nds by eight wickets at Cloakham Lawns on Saturday.

Axminster captain Emily Broad, won the toss and put the visitors into bat.

Axminster's bowling was ferocious with Maddie Holfield striking with the first ball of the game.

Tight fielding and accurate bowling kept the run rate down and the wickets fell quickly.

Holfield took a further four wickets (including a double caught & bowled), JoJo Baylis managed a hat-trick and Lily Goodier took two wickets all in just 16.2 overs.

Chasing just 27 Axminster quickly wrapped up the victory. Holly Elsworth completed her unbeaten 20 with a six and a four to close the game out in the 10th over.

Successful coastal jaunt for AVR's

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS with Dave Mutter
Nine AVR's did the Salcombe Coastal Marathon on Saturday; 26 miles from Torcross to Bantham along the coast path.

The weather was ideal and conditions perfect for fast times. Tim Lenton and Patrick Devine-Wright are both running well and are currently in fine form.

The good news for Tim was that he beat his own 3:55 course record, knocking 15 mins off to finish in 3:47; the bad news for him was that Patrick had already finished five minutes earlier with a new record of 3:34:12, but did he complete the full course?

Amy Greenhalgh, Terry Emmett and Garry Perratt ran together for most of the way with Terry finishing in 4:27, Amy 4:28 and Garry 4:30.

Matt Hower ran with Eleanor Wood and the pair finished in 4:40 Chris and Yvette Hill also ran together. Their time was 6:40 but that includes the ferry crossing.

Special congratulations go to Terry and Matt who had previously not run further than 21 miles. A result from London Marathon that was missed last week - Andy Smart was devastated to miss his target time by 16 seconds, completing in 5:00:16.

CHARD ROAD RUNNERS with Paul Masters
NINE CRR's completed the weekend's marathon at STURMINSTER NEWTON.

Finishing times; Jeremy Taylor (21st) 03:15:05, Roddy McLean (22nd) 03:15:15, Paul Masters (29th) 03:17:33, Bernie Genge (46th) 03:25:45, Adrian Male (154th) 04:13:22, Addie Douglass (177th) 04:21:44, Helen Baxter (200th) 04:38:10, Emma Male (245th) 05:19:40, Miranda Coleberd (265th) 05:54:42.

HONITON RC with Judy Davey
SEVERAL club runners took part in the recent Virgin London Marathon.

Chris Entwistle was running London for the 3rd time and had been training for a sub 3 hour finish, and although he missed out on that, he did finish in the awesome time of 3:08 which is top 92 per cent of finishers. His run raised money for the Neuro Foundation which works to improve the lives of those affected by Neurofibromatosis.

Esme Moffett was next back in 3:20; a massive personal best time by nine minutes and coming in the top three percent of all ladies.

She was supporting the charities Farming Community Network and A Mile in Her Shoes which helps women remove any barriers by finding their feet through running.

Brent Dicks enjoyed his 2nd London and managed to achieve a pb to finish in 4:06.

Sharon Wells got her place by winning Honiton RC's ballot place and raised money for the Club's charity, the Stroke Association. She enjoyed the experience and completed in 4:21 which is a massive pb of 10 minutes.

Sue Phillips and Michelle Selley were also running for charity and were delighted to finish in 4:25 and 4:38 respectively.

tee off golf news from honiton, axe cliff and cricket st thomas

Crewkerne on top in Harper comp

HONITON with John Pawley
MEMBERS enjoyed three mixed competitions this last week.

First up was a mixed friendly at home against SIDMOUTH on Sunday. Honiton won six matches, halved two and lost one.

Then 22 players took part in the Tuesday Mixed Monthly draw, playing a greensomes format.

In challenging conditions, Hilda Hoepelman & Cyril Dann emerged victorious with 32 points and were presented with the Chivers' Centenary Goblets.

In second were Maureen Tollemache & Paul Ritchie with 31 points with Lesley Farley & Robert Hendrick third with 30, five of which were earned when they scored a two on the par 4 3rd hole.

Finally, on Saturday, Peter Clarke with wife Heather won the Mixed Fitch competition with 33 points. This is a testing foursomes Stableford competition for married couples only.

Top of the field this week in the Ladies stableford competition was Chris Luttman in Bronze 1 division, who came in with an excellent 36 points. Linda Blundell was second with 34. Also in the prizes were Stephani Barnes (31) and Lesley Farley (30).

The silver division winner was Anne Davies with 35 points, edging out Chris Pearce on countback. Cherry Liell came in with 34 to take the lead in Bronze 2 division. Jan Portlock was second with 28.

Margaret Jory came top in the 10-hole competition with 14 points.

The Seniors, endured four seasons in the course of a single round of golf with sun, rain, hail and snow. This inevitably proved too much for a few players, unaccustomed to putting on greens covered with a layer of hail or snow.

Mike Stroud stormed home with 38 points, not only winning Division One, but also claiming the Ronnie Pew 100 Salver which was inaugurated last year to mark Ronnie's 100th birthday.

Stan Squire was close behind with 36. Keith Lloyd, Mike Watts and Alan Pollock took the remaining prizes in that Division.

In Division Two Bob Cockett topped the list with 33, Rob Sexton and Peter Blake followed with 31 and Howard Pritchard and Rob Armittage were placed 4th and 5th respectively.

Malcolm Matthews, John Fleetwood, Ben Rogers, Mike Watts and Andy Sharland all carded 2s.

AXE CLIFF with Peter Motson

THE Men's section played three competitions last week including their April Stableford which was won by D Morgan with 28 points. A close 2nd was Jin Hong with 27 including one Two score.

Another recent stableford match saw Simon Matthews coming home 1st with 40 points, Richard Gibbons in 2nd with 38 and 3rd was Nigel Pritchard with 34. Alan Morgan recorded the only Two.

The Seve Trophy (teams of three, two stableford best scores to count) was won by Alan Kenworthy, Bill Kitchen & Paul Curtin with 72 points. 2nd also with 72 were Syuart Mackie, Nigel Pritchard & Alan Morgan. Paul Clode, Ian Buraston and Craig Trivett all carded 2s.

The Ladies section played their re-arranged Brigg and Win stableford competition, only six clubs and a putter, resulting in a win for Pauline Willis 39 points, 2nd was Jill Wellington with 36 and 3rd was Anne Jarvos with 34.

The Ladies also played a friendly 4-ball Better Ball match, against BRIDPORT and came away with a draw, with Helen Gaudie, Stella Thompson, Bee Sammons winning their games.

CRICKET ST THOMAS

with Bert Robinson
THE Seniors held their annual "Harpers 3 Town" competition on Monday.

This is a match contested between teams from Chard, Ilminster and Crewkerne, each team fielding 14 players.

Each team submitted one player in a three-ball stableford format, with the winning member scoring three points for his team. Eddie Paolini led his Crewkerne team with a splendid 39 points to secure the best score of the day.

Other top scorers included Stuart Pope and Richard Hall for Chard, both returning a score of 38 points.

Result: 1st Crewkerne 36 points, 2nd Chard 32, 3rd Ilminster 28.

Meanwhile, 42 Seniors made the trip to Dainton Park on Wednesday to compete in the second round of The Challenge Cup Trophy.

The fast greens, combined with violent hail storms made life difficult for most of the golfers, but a fine round by Bob Hollingworth saw him take the honours with 33 points.

This was matched by an equally good round by Frank Martin who also recorded 33, but with an inferior back nine. Martin Bargery (32) was third.

On Friday The Seniors took part in a two-man Medley competition. Very little separated the teams as John Chance & Geoff Dean carded 38 points to equal the score of Clive Fisk & Andy Beale who were leading in the clubhouse.

This was exceeded by the final pair of Keith Branchflower & Mike Horne partner who stormed home with 40 points.
